PORTERVILLE, Apr. 7—Detailed planning is underway for the southern valley's next big entertainment event — the Porterville rodeo, set for the afternoons of April 30 and May 1 in the Rocky Hill arena, under sponsorship of the Orange Belt Saddle club.

The RCA - approved show will match professional cowboys against the famous rodeo string of the Christensen Brothers, out of Oregon, with dollars and world championship points at stake.

Featured in the arena will be a matched ride between Shawn Davis, world champion saddle bronc rider, and Bob Robinson, now a Porterville college student and former Canadian champion saddle bronc rider. It's a winner-take-all contest, between two of the world's best bronc riders.

Western events connected with the rodeo will include the annual

THE GHOST of the Indian reservation! She's there. You can see her from the road in the moonlight - a nun, sitting on a rock, gazing across a valley to the Sierra beyond. She is clear and distinct and unmistakable in the moonlight, but when she is approached, she turns to stone. Yet, when left alone, she returns, sitting, gazing toward the mountains.

The 11.1 mile stretch of highway which has been up and down the priority list for several years, is now up toward the top again, and it is understood that if project money is put in the next state budget, construction can be started in February of next year. Cost is estimated at $1,250,000.

THE DAY'S work is done. The Springville-Sierra rodeo stands are empty. The crowd has gone and the broncs, calves and bulls that were stomping cowboys into the arena ground during the afternoon are taking it easy, and appear as gentle as stock out on the ranch.

Talking things over are Andy Jauregui, rodeo stock contractor, and Bob Robinson, champion cowboy who is now attending Porterville college and running a school of his own in Porterville - the Bob Robinson Rodeo school. (Bob was in the Springville money in bull riding.) How about that little 'ol Hereford? Well, that's a bull that Robinson has been working with at his school, and he dumped two professional cowboys in weekend competition, so Jauregui is taking him along for a try in the big time. "That bull is young and smart, and he works hard when he comes out of the chute," says Robinson. And from Jauregui, Robinson got a couple of Brahmas for his student riders to work out on, and also a new pickup horse. Oh yes, the rodeo name of that Hereford - "Bob Robinson School," of course.

BARBECUE AND WILDFLOWER FESTIVAL WILL BE HELD APRIL 17 AT SCICON

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 7 — Arrangements have been completed for the annual Scicon Barbecue and Wild Flower festival to be held Sunday, April 17, at the Clemmie Gill school, located eight miles above Springville. The barbecue and Wild Flower festival is one of the principal fund-raising activities for the continuing development of the Clemmie Gill School of Science and Conservation.

Formal dedication is planned of the John Muir lodge which, thru the efforts of largely volunteer labor on the part of school districts and civic organizations throughout Tulare county, is now complete. The building, with a cafeteria represents an appraised value of nearly $80,000.

The science and conservation program for the students of sixth grades from the various schools of the county is now under way at the Clemmie Gill school. This year for the first time children are experiencing science and conservation instructions in week-long visits to the school throughout the year.

Tickets for the barbecue are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. They may be secured from the administrator of any elementary school in the county, or by contacting Richard A. Schlagle, principal of Westfield school, 1151 W. Pioneer avenue, Porterville, chairman of the event.

FILM AND SINGING AT CENTER MEET

SPRINGVILLE, Apr. 7 — A film, "We Three Plus Two", and folk singing, featured a potluck dinner meeting of the Springville Farm Bureau Center Tuesday evening in the Springville Memorial building. Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson were hosts; Center Chairman Bob Ford presided.

FARM BUREAU DIRECTORS MEETING

VISALIA, Apr. 7 — Directors of the Tulare County Farm Bureau will meet for dinner and their regular monthly business session at the County Farm Bureau office in Visalia next Tuesday, April 12, at 7 p.m. President Ted Fisher will preside.

By Glenn M. Edwards

All of us out at PC were naturally glad to see Mrs. LaRae King be chosen as the College Teacher of the Year for Central California. Mrs. King, the wife of LeRoy King, head of the English department, is well known as being one of the finest teachers we have on campus. Her only fault is that she makes the class learn something — unforgivable, I'm sure you'll agree.

Colleges from Modesto, Fresno, and clear on down to Bakersfield sent in nominations for this honor. Mrs. King was chosen the best of all these contestants. It takes talent.

President Orlin Shires was named Administrator of the year for Tulare county — and Mrs. King also won the Teacher of the Year award for Tulare county. We sure know how to pick 'em.

Flushed with success after the performances of "The Doctor In Spite Of Himself", the drama department is in the process of preparing another play. This time it's a musical: "The Gondoliers", by Gilbert and Sullivan. Victor Morris, the majestic music master, is directing the operetta. Gary Landers, Mac Jenkins, Kathy Wilson, Janet Schwin, Rick Owen et al, help make up the cast. The play will be presented next month.

Speaking of May and what's happening then; the college's fabulous folk singers will gather together for an evening of song and merriment. This will be on May 20. Better buy your tickets while they're still around. Or, better yet, buy up a supply of the tickets and resell them at a decent profit when all the culture-hungry collegians start clamoring for them.

Kathy Kenney, one of Porterville's contestants for the Miss Tulare county crown, won "Miss Congeniality" at the pageant last Saturday. She was the only PC girl to win anything at Visalia.

On April 14 and 15, PJC will play host to the Seventh Annual Area Science fair. This competition is open to high school seniors on down to a kindergarten under grad.

The winners of this fair will compete in Fresno and then, if they win, will compete on a national level. Maybe we have another Werner VonBraun or Nicholas Bourbaki on our hands here in Porterville.

As of yet, no one out here has seen a flying saucer. There have, however, been reports of a ghost out on the Indian reservation.

Can you explain it?

NEW BUILDING FOR SJV NATIONAL BANK

TULARE, Apr. 7 — Ground was broken last Thursday in Tulare for the new, permanent building of the San Joaquin Valley National bank at King and L streets.

WHAT'S DOING?

Are you registered? If not Donna Carr or Bob Adams above will register you at our business office located at 198 North 2nd Street in Porterville. They have both been deputized and have all the necessary materials to do the job.

You can't vote unless you register . . . so be sure to see Bob or Donna before the deadline of April 15, if you need registering.

We've all gotten a kick out of this story that made the rounds of the telephone office: A man being interviewed for a job was asked by the prospective employer if he'd ever done any public speaking. "I sure have," replied the applicant. "I once proposed to a girl over a rural party-line telephone!" Those were the good old days?

Crime doesn't pay. Certainly not if the criminal—one we read about—calls his wife long distance from the house he's robbing to say he's "working late!" When the homeowner received the charge on his phone bill, he informed police no one was home the date of the call. It was handier than fingerprints to check the number called for the thief's name and address!

MR. AND MRS. TOM JOHNSON CAN'T AGREE ABOUT

Says Mrs. Johnson

The best part of our new Sherwood home? That's easy. It's the kitchen. I like the arrangement, and the way space is economized and used to advantage. The built-in Caloric Ultra-Ray gas oven and stove are just fine; the beautiful kitchen cabinets give me lots of storage space, and it's just a step from stove to sink to dish washer to refrigerator — yet there is plenty of room to work. And with the dining area adjacent to the kitchen work area, you sort of double up on available space.

QUALITY CONVENIENCE MODERN LIVING

On these things Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson do agree, for they find their new Sherwood home on Lombard street does incorporate the convenience of modern living with quality construction.

"It's certainly not the biggest home in Porterville, nor the most expensive," Mrs. Johnson says, "but it is a livable home — and that's what we wanted."

"And while it is located in a newly-developing tract, it is not just another tract home. Leonard Taylor, of Sherwood Homes, showed us several floor plans; he explained a number of optional features, and we told him our ideas."

"Out of our conversation came a floor plan and built-in items that we wanted."

The Johnson home has three bedrooms, two baths, a living room, a family room, a kitchen, and a dining area. It is of two-level construction, with a step-down into the family room.

Opening off the family room is an outdoor patio, and a doorway that provides easy access from the garage into the family room and kitchen.

Adding distinctive beauty to the home is rock work on the front of the house, and on the base of a front-yard light.

Caloric Ultra-Ray, built-in gas oven and stove is a feature of the modern kitchen. Beautiful cabinet work is also prominent in the kitchen; bedrooms include extensive closet space behind folding doors; all carpets are of Dupont continuous Nylon pile; tile and glass work add color to the bathrooms and kitchen; a fireplace and high book shelves give a "homey" feel to the family room. Balanced power and "day and night" gas heating, water heating and air conditioning complete this most modern house.

"After all, you don't buy or build a home every day," says Tom Johnson. "When you do buy, it pays to look around, check with builders, and find something that you really like. That's what we did, and we found just exactly what we wanted in our Sherwood Home."

Says Mr. Johnson

The best part of our new Sherwood home? That's easy. It's the family room. Reclining chair, color TV, a nice fireplace, the evening paper — what more could you ask for. I know this is one family room that will get a lot of family living.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

WHAT WITH spring in the air and politics bustin' out all over, we envision as our public duty the clarification of certain political terminology that appears to be somewhat loosely used in such places as coffee counters, saloons, public meetings and the public press. In the interest of a more enlightened campaign in '66, we present the following concise definitions of commonly abused political terms.

RADICAL RIGHT. Those enlightened individuals who have discovered the only logical and proper methods to save the nation, that is if you are one of them. Those radical kooks who should be run out of the country if you happen to be not one of them.

RADICAL LEFT. Those enlightened individuals who have discovered the only logical and proper methods to save the nation, that is if you are one of them. Those radical kooks who should be run out of the country if you happen to be not one of them.

INCUMBENT. A dedicated public servant who is willing to make further personal sacrifice for the good of the people, if you are for him. A public parasite who deserves nothing better than to be thrown back into the gutter, if you are not for him.

CANDIDATE. A public spirited individual who is willing to give of his great talents in service to the people, if you are supporting him. Another bum trying to get his foot in the public trough, if you are not supporting him.

DEMOCRAT. The champions of the people, if you are one. The betrayers of the Republic, if you are not one.

REPUBLICAN. The champions of the people, if you are one. The betrayers of the Democracy if you are not one.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE. The thunderous roar that your candidate heard before he announced. The monologue at midnight that the other guy's candidate heard before he announced.

COMMUNIST. Anyone who disagrees with you politically.

JOHN BIRCHER. Anyone who disagrees with you politically.

(ED. NOTE) If you think you detect confusion in the two definitions immediately above, remember that in America you have the freedom of choice. Make your own decision. This nut who is disagreeing with you has got to be one or the other.

STATESMAN. The guy in office who you supported.

POLITICAL HACK. The guy in office who you didn't support.

LIBERAL. Those eggheads who want to save the nation with someone else's money.

CONSERVATIVE. Those eggheads who want to save the nation with someone else's money, but who claim they can do it better than the egghead liberals can.

POLITICAL TRUCE. Agreement to quit calling your opponent a bum in public. But off the record, the bum is still a bum.

WITH THESE basic definitions, you can now listen to political speeches, read political platforms, support political candidates, and know just exactly what's going on.

CLOSE UP view of city government was given some 20 Porterville High School students recently when students from the school took over from elected and administrative officials of the city of Porterville and "ran the town" from 9 A.M. until 2 P.M., with time out for lunch at the Paul Bunyan. Through the student council organization at the high school specific students were assigned to city department heads and councilmen for a look at city operation. Photos show Mayor Aubrey M. We would like to wish you a "Happy Easter" and hope the Easter bunny is most kind to you. Should you be missing any cabbage heads or not be able to find your own you have our utmost sympathy.

We do have Easter Lilies, Azaleas, Violets, Mums, Caladiums, and similar blooming things to add to your Easter festivities. We gift wrap, deliver, and write white lies on cards at no added cost. This is a good way to surprise your wife or impress anyone else you wish to make points with.

If Easter means time for gardening, there are several items around that are guaranteed to catch your eye. These include colorful bedding plants almost beyond description and azaleas that will leave you gasping. Especially when you see the price. However, we do have other azaleas that are both beautiful and inexpensive.

If the noon day sun makes you realize that you should have planted more shade trees, they are still available in all sizes and varieties. Ash, mulberry, weeping willow, liquidambar, and such are among the old time favorites. However, there are several other less planted varieties that are especially good for many locations. We're closed Easter Sunday but loafing around here most other days. Put on the old Easter Bonnet and come on down.

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 7 — Four guest artists will be featured at a concert of chamber music to be presented by the Porterville College Music club, Saturday, April 16, in the new communication arts building on the college campus at 8:15 p.m.

In the featured group will be: Adele Luker, violinist, of Porterville; Patricia Watson, violinist, of Fresno; Luba Staller, cellist, of Visalia; and Glory Fisher, pianist, of Bakersfield.

The evening's program will be concluded by the P.C. Vocal ensemble, singing 16th century madrigals by Thomas Morley and Orlando di Lasso; music for brass instruments and voices by the Baroque composer Johann Pachelbel; and two contemporary selections, one of which was composed by the California composer, Halsey Stevens, and the other by Edmund Rubbra.

Nuclear Power: just plug it in.

It won't be long now.

You may soon be popping toast and cooking roasts with electricity produced from Edison's $87 million nuclear generating plant now under construction at the northwest corner of the Camp Pendleton Marine Reservation.

This giant plant, capable of serving a city of half a million people, is scheduled for operation early in 1967.

Public interest in the project has been widespread. More than 100,000 people have already visited the Nuclear Information Center, located on a bluff overlooking the construction site.

Putting the atom to work is yet another example of the never-ending search for new sources of power in Edison's continuing drive to keep well ahead of Southern California's needs for abundant electricity at the lowest possible cost.

FOUNTAIN TO BE BUILT AT LAKE SUCCESS

SUCCESS VALLEY, Apr. 7 — Members of the Success Valley 4-H club have started work on a drinking fountain that they are constructing at Lake Success as a community project for the current year.

Members also attended Mass at the St. Anne's Catholic church on 4-H Sunday, March 27, and voted to host the Springville Cub Scout troop at their April meeting.

At the March meeting of the club Keith Wardlaw led the flag salute and Kathleen Wardlaw the 4-H pledge. Project reports were given by Michael Thomas, Marcia Monroe, and Keith Wardlaw.

JoWayne Brown reported on the sewing demonstration for Area Field day. This demonstration was presented by Kay Gill and JoWayne Brown, on February 26, at Porterville High school. The girls were awarded a Blue Seal, which entitled them to participate at the County Field Day, in March.

Mary Chamberlain and Marcia Monroe, two of the girls from Mrs. Chamberlain's cooking class, gave a demonstration on how to prepare orange frosting. Punch and cake were served as refreshments to the members.

After the meeting a film was shown on how to judge wool and lamb.

Time Out

By Davis Harp

SHE'S SIX YEARS OLD NOW . . . AND THE LIONS ARE DISAPPEARING

She was a small red-clad figure fleeing down the crooked path across the field. She followed her old fat brown dog through the waist-high fiddle neck that has been burned the color of gold by the hot spring sun and her pig-tails did a small dance on her back.

She was six in January and her months of kindergarten had seen her grow tall, and brightly colored pictures now paper her walls. She can do many things now. I am needed less. She has learned that walking on Villa Street is indeed a dangerous thing, but how else does one get home from school?

It was decided that she is now old enough to make the trip to the store by herself. In times past it was a fearsome journey. First of all you had to get across the street, then there is the long and high span of the Porter Slough bridge that shelters fierce Indians, and then, the field. The field there on the corner of Villa and Putnam has long since been a favorite haunt of all the lions and tigers of our area. You could often hear them thrashing about out there in the high weeds and grass and it was rumored that they ambushed unwary travelers crossing the field using its crooked path.

Before she left on her journey she asked if perhaps I didn't want to go. It was, after all, a nice day. I told her I would stay home and for her to hurry home with the popcicles. The old brown dog fell into step with her, for this is a familiar and favorite trip. She crossed the street and started out with quick steps, walking on the sandy shoulder of the road. It is safer there and you can find many pieces of bright broken glass. Near the bridge her step slowed. The Indians under the bridge make little noise and you must be very quiet to hear them. She hopped down the steep embankment to the path and the fiddleneck seemed to crowd the way. The old brown dog sniffed along the path, looking for lions, doubtlessly. The dog broke into a trot as the great smells of the store reached them on the warm air. She hurried after the dog and the thrashing and roaring of the lions was forgotten as the store loomed up large and white at the end of the path. She stopped long enough to hug the old brown dog before she disappeared into the store.

After several minutes she burst out of the store and skipped down the path with the old brown dog slightly behind. She scrambled up onto the road without even glancing at the dark under the bridge. The lions had roared only faintly on the trip across the field and not at all coming back. She delivered the popcicles, only slightly melted, and said that it was lots of fun going to the store.

What happened to the lions and tigers? Well, I think they are with Marshall, the mystic Indian who used to frequent our backyard, back there in the good old days when she was three.

BENEFIT DANCE FOR WORKSHOP SET APRIL 16

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 7 — Benefit dance for the building fund of the Porterville Sheltered Workshop will be sponsored by the Porterville Breakfast Lions club the evening of Saturday, April 16, at the Porterville Elks lodge.

parade, set for 10 a.m., the morning of April 30, with horse-drawn vehicles, western riders, and bands featured. A big western dance is slated the night of April 30 at the Porterville Armory, with music by Bobby Jobe and his Wawkeen Country Boys.

Porterville will "go western" during the week prior to the rodeo, with prizes to be awarded on April 29 in the business district for best western dress, individuals, and total store personnel. Three categories will be set up; judges will be picked from visiting cowboys.

At present six girls are competing for queen of the Porterville rodeo — Becky Forner, Janis Giddens, Michele Booth, and Sherrie Rogers, of Porterville; Carol Baldwin, of Tulare; and Kitty Kelley, of Terra Bella.

And advertising is now being solicited for the Porterville Rodeo program, which, because of its style and content, is rated each year as one of the best in the rodeo world.

ect and is now making a "final push" prior to start of actual construction.

A number of other organizations have contributed toward the new building, and the Elks lodge is co-operating on the April 16 dance. The public is invited to attend; tickets can be obtained from Breakfast Lions, or can be purchased at the door.

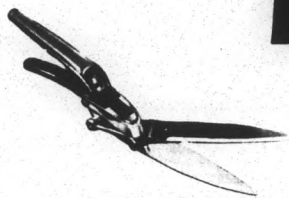

What with women changing their hair color on a moment's notice, and wearing wigs of many shapes, sizes and colors, the State of Oklahoma has taken out the hair color space on women's driver licenses.
